Arlington Partnership for Affordable Housing Celebrates Affordable Housing and Honors Senator Barbara Favola and The Bozzuto Group

Arlington, VA (October 8, 2013) – The Arlington Partnership for Affordable Housing (APAH) celebrated affordable housing at the 2013 APAH Annual Fundraiser Gala on October 8, 2013 from 5:00 pm-8:00 pm at The Clarendon Ballroom in Arlington, VA. The event invites Arlington businesses and residents to celebrate the importance of affordable housing in keeping Arlington diverse and inclusive.

APAH will honor two community leaders for their role in affordable housing. “We honor Senator Barbara Favola for her vision, leadership and commitment to increasing the supply of affordable housing and to ending homelessness in Arlington,” said APAH President/CEO Nina Janopaul.

“APAH honors The Bozzuto Group and Tom Bozzuto, Chairman and CEO, for the vision and commitment to identify affordable housing solutions and their nationwide leadership in the real estate industry,” Janopaul said.

John Milliken, former Arlington County Board member and APAH Board member, will serve as master of ceremonies. APAH Chair Rita Bamberger, Senior Vice President, The Holladay Corp. and APAH President/CEO Nina Janopaul will provide remarks and introduce APAH resident, David Clark, who will share his story.

“We appreciate the support of our growing community of individual contributors and sponsors including Cohn/Reznick, The Bozzuto Group, Carpet & Wood Floor Liquidators, Enterprise Community Investment, IES Residential, The JBG Companies, National Foundation for Affordable Housing Solutions, Value Lighting and The Venable Foundation,” Janopaul said. “Their generous gifts help APAH to achieve our mission of developing, preserving, owning and advocating for quality affordable housing in Arlington, and promoting opportunity of our residents through partnership and programs,” Janopaul went on to say.
